Research Interest

My research interests fall into the epidemiology of infectious diseases, especially HIV and AIDS. I have focused on the control and prevention of infectious disease, harm reduction programs, injection drug use, risky sexual behavior, hidden population, people who live with HIV, and stigma and discrimination related to HIV. As well, I have also designed health and medical measures and interventions to prevent HIV and sexually transmitted diseases. My expertise expands to Cooperation in designing of STI/STD surveillance system in Iran as well as setting up of COVID-19 registry system in Isfahan province, Iran.

Education

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Epidemiology (2011- 2015)

Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, Kerman University of Medical Sciences, Kerman, Iran.

Thesis Title: Modelling of Incidence and Prevalence of some Sexually Transmitted Infections in Iran.

Thesis Details: To estimate the incidence and prevalence of the sexually transmitted infection in Iran, a stochastic compartmental mathematical model containing two sub-models, syndromic and etiological, was designed, in each of which the effects of different factors on the system of registration and reporting of sexually transmitted infections were considered.

Supervisors: Dr. Ali Akbar Haghdoust – Dr. Mohammad Reza Baneshi

Outcomes: 1) Six papers in peer review journals; 2) provided a chapter book of Epidemiology of communicable diseases in Iran (2017); 3) preparing national guide to the care and treatment of STIs/STDs in Iran (2015)

Master of Science in Epidemiology (2008-2010)

Department of Epidemiology and biostatistics, Kerman University of Medical Sciences, kerman, Iran.

Thesis title: Modelling the Expected Distribution of new HIV Infections by exposure group in Iran

Bachelor of Science in Public Health (2001-2003)

Health School, Shahid Beheshti University of Medical Sciences, Tehran, Iran,

Thesis Title: Assessing the knowledge and attitude of elementary students about breakfast in Tehran Education District 16, 2002.
